About Your Role:

We are looking for a talented Flutter Developer to join our development team on a 6-month contract. The role involves developing high-quality, cross-platform mobile applications for Android and iOS while collaborating with designers, backend developers, and product teams. The ideal candidate should have strong Flutter expertise and a solid understanding of mobile development principles.

Your Impactful Goals Will Include:

- Translate business requirements into functional and scalable mobile applications using Flutter.
- Develop and maintain cross-platform mobile applications for Android and iOS.
- Collaborate with UI/UX designers to implement intuitive and user-friendly interfaces.
- Write clean, maintainable, and well-documented code.
- Perform unit and integration testing to ensure application functionality and reliability.
- Collaborate with the Team Lead during system integration and debugging.
- Identify and resolve technical issues efficiently.
- Ensure timely delivery of assigned tasks and project milestones.
- Provide support for live projects as required.
- Stay updated with Flutter and mobile development best practices and apply them to development work

Functional Skills Requirement:

- 2–4 years of hands-on experience in Flutter development.
- Strong knowledge of Dart programming language and Object-Oriented Programming (OOP) concepts.
- Proficiency in developing cross-platform mobile applications using Flutter for both Android and iOS.
- Good understanding of mobile application architecture patterns, including MVVM and MVC.
- Experience with RESTful API integration in mobile applications.
- Understanding of mobile UI/UX design principles, best practices, and platform-specific guidelines.
- Familiarity with cloud platforms such as Firebase, AWS, or Azure.
- Experience with implementing push notifications.
- Familiarity with version control tools; experience with DevOps is a plus.
- Strong problem-solving and debugging skills.
- Good written and spoken English communication skills.
